

Tennessee Department of Education: Teach Tennessee

Nashville, Tennessee

Secondary Preparation Program

Secondary preparation program structure:

Publicly available information on this program is insufficient to provide information on its components

Teacher candidate enrollment: 314 (2011-2012)

Teacher production: 24 (2011-2012)

(2013 Title II Reports)

Secondary Preparation Program Grade

D-

Score Breakdown

Alt Cert Std A: Selection Criteria

By employing sufficiently high but pragmatic admissions standards, the program is designed to attract talented individuals who otherwise would not choose to teach.

Selection criteria for admission into the program only partly satisfy this standard. The requirement for the post-secondary grade point average is set sufficiently high to ensure that candidates have the requisite academic talent, but the program does not sufficiently assess non-academic requirements that are also important for teaching, because although the program may require an interview, it does not require an audition.

Alt Cert Std B: Subject Area Expertise

Before teacher candidates have full-fledged teaching responsibilities, the program ensures their content mastery in every subject for which they could be responsible for instruction.

Without a thorough grasp of the subject they will teach—typically acquired by majoring in an academic discipline—secondary teachers will be unable to provide the sophisticated level of instruction that their students need to progress. All children deserve to have teachers who are well versed in each and every one of the subjects they teach, regardless of teacher shortages that are used to justify preparation shortcuts. Alternative certification programs should make sure, by either reviewing transcripts or requiring that candidates pass rigorous assessments, that before secondary candidates enter the classroom as the teachers of record they know the subjects they will teach.

The program does not meet this standard because it allows teacher candidates to enter their classrooms as the teachers of record without the transcript review or testing that would ensure that the candidates have sufficient content mastery.

Alt Cert Std C: Supervised Practice

The program provides adequate supervised classroom instruction practice opportunities.

The fundamental premise of alternative certification is that full-time, independent teaching can serve as a clinical training ground for teacher candidates. To the extent that this is even possible, it requires a co-teaching arrangement with a highly qualified mentor teacher, or—barring that—as close to a co-teaching arrangement as can be offered through intense support and feedback from the alternative certification program. In the latter case, the program’s support with five or more formal observations in the beginning months of teaching must be supplemented by the support of a school-based colleague who has been selected to be a mentor on the basis of demonstrated mentoring capabilities as well as effective instruction as measured by student performance.

The program’s score for this standard has been imputed based on the nature of information provided on its features across all standards. There is every indication that the program does not satisfy the standard based either on the absence of information one would expect to be provided in publicly available materials were the features above available, or on the corroboration in information that is publicly available that its features do not rise to this level of adequacy.

Alt Cert Std D: Evidence of Effectiveness

NA

The program’s graduates have a positive impact on student learning.

A score on this standard is not applicable because evaluation depends on reports on the relative effectiveness of the program’s graduates from a teacher preparation student performance data model; either 1) the program’s state does not publish any such report, 2) the state publishes such a report, but the results do not pertain specifically to only this secondary program, or 3) the state publishes such a report, but the results for this program are not consistent for two consecutive years.